The City Club

Mr. John Z. White, lecturer, of the Henry George Association, will address the City Club at its luncheon on Saturday, January 3. His subject will be "The Relation of Taxation to Community Development." During the past fourteen years the Henry George Association speakers have addressed more than five thousand organizations and approximately one million persons. The Association exists for the purpose of stimulating interest in the taxation of land values and all related questions by means of lectures.

The Club meets at the Hotel Gayoso every Saturday at 12:30 and adjourns at 2 o'clock. Members are privileged to bring guests. The Governing Board hopes on this occasion that each member will bring one or more guests.

The luncheon program of the Club will be over at 1:15, at which time the Club will be thrown open to the general public, and a cordial invitation is extended to all who may desire to hear Mr. White's lecture on this important subject.

Secretary.

SCOTT'S RUSH TO JACKSON, MISS.

Members From Every County to Reach Capital in 24 Hours Is Belief.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 2. (Sp.)—Fully two-thirds of the membership of the lower house of the Mississippi legislature are expected to reach the capital within the next 24 hours. The lawmakers are attracted early to the scene of action by the speaker's contest, which is the most interesting that has confronted a new legislature in many years.

The contest has resolved itself into a question of whether the united forces of the incoming and outgoing governors can defeat the present incumbent, M. S. Connor, of Madison, who is now regarded as the leading aspirant for the honor.

Both Gov. Bilbo and Gov. E. E. Russell are putting forth their strongest efforts in opposition to Connor and in behalf of S. Joe Owen of Union county, who has always been strong as a supporter of the Owen-Bilbo-Russell faction.

This political feud threatens to overshadow the other speaker's contest, Judge George Anderson, of Warren, and S. H. Glass, of Atlanta. At the same time it also suggests the possibility of a deadlock when the legislature convenes next Tuesday in which event either of the last named candidates may have more than a fighting chance, or some dark horse might step in and capture the honor.

Connor's supporters are absolutely confident and he has perfected a splendid fighting organization. The fight is made more interesting by the fact that four years ago Connor's election to the speakership was due wholly to the influence of Gov. Bilbo, but at the session of the legislature the political lines between the speaker and the governor were severed and Connor has since been classed in the anti-Bilbo faction, having supported Oscar Johnson in the contest for governor last year.

Amusements

New Lyric.

Robert Mantell is a master of pauses. Like the painter uses his background, his vacant spaces to emphasize his figures, his scenes, his conceptions, so does the actor, so does Mantell, and never was this more eloquently emphasized than in his performance of "The Merchant of Venice" Thursday night, when, after Shylock's exit at the end of the trial scene, the audience, before, burst into tremendous, impetuous applause. Shylock had not said a word for full 30 seconds, but his silent emotion, his desire for revenge against the taking away in the flesh of his daughter Jessica, his centuries-old adherence to his tradition, his fathers, his claim for the fulfillment of his bond, his aims all thwarted, his heart broken, his spirit shattered, his disappointment, the tragedy of desire, the heart-ache the heart-ache the heart-ache.

Loew's Lyceum.

Variety and harmony dominate the New Year's week performance for the last half at Loew's Lyceum. A picturesque and novel offering is that of the two Yagis, who stage Indian dances and who interpret native music. Wayne Freeman opens the show with harp and ukulele banjo, and Mabel and Johnny Dove keep the fun going with dancing and singing. Masters of harmony are Weber, Buck and Fraser, who put a bulge into the induction of the club. Brothers, aerialists, close the vaude program.

Florence Weston, the brightest touch of the week in his Laurence Gobbie, with Henry Buckler as Old Gobbo, their dominating the scene. Shylock's house and insect some real Shakespearean comedy into the sadder episode of the play.
